NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU.
HIGH POINT, N. C. Dec. 5

By special request we clip from the Enterprise the following: "The Rev. J. C. Davis, D. D., will hold service and preach in St. Mary's church on the night of Thursday, 8th. Dr. Davis comes for the purpose of making arrangements to give regular services once or twice a month, as circumstances may justify, He will be pleased to meet the people of High Point at the above service."

About the funniest thing we have seen lately happened Saturday night. A young man going home in the rain, whistling "Rastus" "to beat the band" lost his umbrella and did not find it out until he started in his front door and thought of letting it down.

The tobacco sales at the Anchor warehouse are getting better weekly. The offerings last week were light but prices held up well.

The next attraction at the opera house will be the Edison Projectoscope and Comedy Co Ernest Linwood, who is favorably remembered here, will be with them. Ernest himself can give you your money's worth, to say nothing of the kinetoscopic views of the land and naval battles between the Spaniards and the Americans.

Dont be ready to say hard things about us, if you should fail to get your Telegram tonight, just at the minute you expect it, for it will take a few nights to get the carriers started.

Mr. J. T. Webster, of Carthage, has opened his jewelry store and repair shop, in Siceloff and Rothrock's grocery store. Mr. Webster is a man of fifteen years experience in this line. He will move his family about the first of the year. We give them a hearty welcome.

Mrs. E. D. Steele left this morning for Richmond, to visit relatives.

Superior Court Opens.

Guilford superior court opened this morning, Judge E W. Timberlake presiding. The judge's charge to the grand jury was short and clear cut, occupying the jury's attention but little more than fifteen minutes. The judge did not follow the usual form of enumerating crimes, but merely cautioned the grand jury to act according to law whether they considered it just or unjust.

Sheriff Gilmer was assisted in the discharge of his duties by Ex-Sheriff Cook. Clerk of the Court Nelson was perfectly familiar with his work, having been almost raised in that office. Mr. Ragan, the retiring clerk, will stay in the office until after court is over, as it will require several days for him to settle with his successor.

There are now ninety-three cases on the criminal docket and this means that the number will reach a hundred before the end of the week. This is about the usual number.

The New Pastors.

The new pastors of West Market Street and Centenary churches, Revs. J. C. Rowe and T. E. Wagg, preached to their congregations for the time yesterday. Owing to the disagreeable weather the congregations were not large, but those who braved the rain, wind and mud were well paid for the temporary discomfort in going to and from the churches. Rev. F. H. Wood, the new presiding elder, preached a good sermon to the West Market congregation last night. Greensboro Methodism is in safe hands.

Westminster's New Pastor.

We are pleased to announce that Rev. C. E. Hodgin, of South Carolina, has been called to the pastorate of Westminster Presbyterian church this city. This action was consumated at a congregational meeting held in that church yesterday. We shall have more to say of him later. From what we can learn of him now, however, we congratulate the good people of that church.

"I want to get a pair of heavy tan shoes just like you sold Mr. A and Mr. B" That's the kind of talk we hear almost any day, and that's the way every pair we sell of these popular shoes brings in more customers for them. Yesterday we had a very careful customer, one who looks pretty closely after the dollars. We showed him through our line of shoes, but he concluded to look around before buying—looked the town over, came back and bought of us. That's pretty good recommendation for our shoes isn't it? Just now we have some very special values in men's heavy tan and black box calf and vici kid shoes at $2.25, $2.50 and $3.00. If you are going to buy a pair of shoes soon, you ought to see these. THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE.

Read Before the Senate and House Today

MANY THINGS ARE DISCUSSED.

Treats Largely of the Incidents of the Spanish War and the Resultant Complications.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Dec. 5—The following is a complete synopsis of the president's message read before congress today:

To the Senate and House of Representatives:—Notwithstanding the added burdens rendered necessary by the war with Spain, our people rejoice in a very satisfactory and steadily increasing degree of prosperity, as is evidenced by the largest volume of business ever recorded. Labor in all fields of industry is more amply rewarded.

REVENUE LEGISLATION.

The revenue legislation enacted by the present congress has increased the receipts of the treasury to the amount estimated by the authors and the finances of the government have been successfully administered, its credit advanced to the first rank, while its currency has been maintained at the world's highest standard.

MILITARY SERVICE.

The military service under our common flag for a righteous cause has strengthened the national spirit, and served to cement more closely fraternal bonds between every section of the country. In my last message full consideration was given to the question of the duty of the government toward Spain and the Cuban Insurrection as being by far the most important problem with which it was then called upon to deal. Considerations were then advanced and an exposition of views therein expressed, which disclosed my sense of the extreme gravity of the situation, notwithstanding Spain's promise of plans to suppress the insurrection in Cuba.

REVIEW OF THE WAR.

The insurrection continued and there was no alternative, except the physical exhaustion of either combatant in sight when the Maine was blown up last February. The suspicious nature of that horror, which stirred the nation's heart already touched by preceding events in Cuba, didn't move the people to instant and desperate resolve, but they patiently awaited the finding of the court of inquiry. These matters convinced the people that a crisis was at hand which needed but a brief note to congress of the need for preparation for the emergency, whereupon that body appropriated fifty million dollars for national defence.

The outbreak of the war found the nation unprepared. The message here refers to the efforts to bring about diplomatic negotiations, adoption of the ultimatum, withdrawal of Spanish minister, Woodford's final ultimatum demanding the relinquishment of Cuba, its refusal, Cuba blockaded April 22, the call for volunteers, the prompt response, the additions to the navy of one vessel by purchase, one presented, one leased, chartering of the St. Paul, St. Louis, New York and Paris, creating an auxiliary navy, the prompt organization of the signal service, which performed great service, the provision of congress July 13th for a popular bond loan; then follows a brief narration, chronologically, of all engagements and bombardments, commending special acts of bravery.

Summary of total casualties: Officers killed, 23; privates, 257; officers wounded, 113; privates wounded, 1,464. In the navy 17 were killed, 67 wounded and one died from the result of wounds. Total loss, 1,668 killed and wounded. We didn't lose a gun, fort, transport or ship, except the Merrimac, and no prisoners. The message praises the Red Cross and remembers our obligations to the divine Master for his watchful care and guidance for which the nation makes reverential acknowledgments.

TERMS OF PEACE.

Reviews Spain's note inquiring the terms of peace which is announced substantially as per the protocol. Also Spain's vain and inexplicit suggestion which was rejected, and M. Cambon's final authorization to sign the protocol, the suspension of hostilities and appointment of the peace commissioners, whose negotiations he is hopeful will soon enable him to lay before congress a definite treaty direct from the government themselves. It is important that our relations and people be the most friendly and commercial relations close and reciprocal. Until complete tranquillity and a stable government prevails military occupation will be continued.

THE NICARAGUAN CANAL.

With the exception of Spain, our entercourse with the great family of nations is cordial. The close of the year finds most of the issues that necessarily arise from the complex relations of the sovereign states adjusted, or nearly so. The Nicaraguan canal commission has nearly completed its report upon the feasibility and the cost of the construction of the canal. That the construction of such a highway is now more than ever indispensable to that ready inter-communication with the eastern and western seaboards demanded by the annexation of Hawaii, prospective expansion, our influence and commerce in the Pacific, that our policy more than ever calls for its control by this government, which I doubt not congress will appreciate, and wisely act upon.

EVENTS IN CHINA.

The United States has not been an indifferent spectator of the extraordinary events transpiring in China, passing the portions under the control of the various European powers. But the prospect of our vast commercial interests there will not be prejudiced through any exclusive treatment of the obviated need of this country becoming an actor upon the scene of the prize, before the senate reviews the steps leading to its signature "doesn't discuss the future of the government's new possessions which will come as a result of the war. Such discussion will be appropriate after the treaty has been ratified, meantime until congress has legislated otherwise it will be our duty to continue military governments."

RELATIONS WITH BRITAIN.

Our relations with Great Britain continue the most friendly. The protection of Americans and their interests in Spain by diplomatic and consular representatives of Britain elicits the highest commendation. It will give me especial satisfaction if I am authorized, to communicate to you a favorable conclusion of the pending negotiations with respect to Canada.

Reviews the acts of congress annexing Hawaii, the admirable rulers of Hawaii, transfer of the island, the continuance in office of the former civil, judicial and military powers, etc. Here the president refers to the proposal of the czar for a reduction of the vast military establishments, and his readiness to participate in the conference. We desire, in common with the most civilized nations, to reduce to the lowest possible point, the damage sustained in time of war.

He suggests that congress authorize the executive to correspond with the principal martime powers with a view to incorporating into the law of civilized nations the exemption of all private property at sea, except contraband of war, from capture or destruction by belligerents.

Then follows estimates of government receipts for the fiscal year ending June 30; also expenditures, amount of money in the treasury, etc. [On account of the lateness of the hour we omit much of the message at this point.]

After discussing many things varying in interest the president recommends that he be authorized to enlist a hundred thousand men in the regular army. "Several department reports will be laid before you and they will give in detail the conduct of officers of the government during the past year and discuss many questions upon which congress may feel called upon to act.

"Signed Wm. McKinley."

INCIDENT TO THE OPENING.

Scenes In Washington Enacted On Sunday.

SHORT SESSION OF CONGRESS.

It is Likely That The Grinding Out of Bills Will Begin Early in Both Houses.

By Cable to the TELEGRAM.

Washington, Dec. 5—The scenes incident to the opening of a session of congress were enacted Sunday. The trains which arrived brought the statesmen to the capital city from all directions, and the hotels are filling up with congressmen, office seekers, who are always on hand at the capitol building when congress meets, and also persons who are here merely for the purpose of being present to witness the opening proceedings, which will be decidedly uninteresting, and monotonous. As this is the opening of the short session, the usual stirring incidents preliminary to an organization of the house of representatives, are, of course, lacking, and the only interest felt is in the annual deliverance of the president, which will be made public shortly after congress assembles. Of course, no one is expected to pay any attention to the reading of the message by the clerks of the two houses, for it is usually the signal for an emptying of the galleries, and the departure of members from the floor. Most of the senators and representatives prefer to read the president's message by the quiet of their own firesides, where they can the better understand its purport and suggestions.

In both houses after the speaker's gavel, and the vice-president's gavel fall, and the respective houses are called to order, members who have been elected to fill vacancies will present themselves, and take the oath of office. The most interest is felt in Mr. Simon, of Oregon, who comes to take the seat from the state in the senate which has remained unoccupied, owing to the failure of the Oregon legislature to elect, up to within the last month.

It is likely that the grinding out of bills will begin early in both houses, and the real work of the session will not be long delayed. After the reading of the message no business will be attempted in either house, but an adjournment will take place. It is likely that during the present week in both the senate and house, in a measure, the business will be allowed to arrange itself, until Thursday, when the Senate, at least, and probably the house also, will conclude to take an adjournment until Monday.

The prospects Sunday evening seemed good for a rough day today at the opening of the session, which it is hoped may not prove to be the case, as it would disappoint thousands of persons who wish to get into a big crowd to witness an uninteresting and tedious proceeding. Yesterday the rain fell in torrents upon both the just and unjust statesmen, which they did not seem to relish.

Although the North Carolina delegation does not seem to be in a hurry about getting to Washington, most of them will be here by noon. It was reported that both Butler and Pritchard will be on hand. White is here, as is also Pearson.

Col. W. A. Turk, of the Southern Railroad, and who is a North Carolinian, claiming the state as his home, was among the heavy, distinguished and popular men of the national capital who had the very great honor of attending one of the famous dinners for which the famous Gridiron Club is noted. Col. Turk says he had an excellent time, and enjoyed the speeches and dinner, but like most of the gvests he enjoyed the dinner most.

Col. and Mrs. Lindsay Morehead, of North Carolina, have returned to Washington for the winter, having closed their home in the state. They are now occupying the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Curry, on M street, northwest. Col. Morehead and his wife, who is very popular among southern members of Washington society, on account of her gracious and charming ways, took a prominent part in social festivities last season.

Mrs. Zebulon B. Vance, has returned to Washington from the mountains of North Carolina, where she has a handsome country seat, to spend the winter. She has as her guests her son and daughter-in law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Martin, of North Carolina.

Among North Carolina people in the city are Charles N. Jenks, of Ashville; F. A. Mamler; Mrs. C. W. Morgan, and Mrs. T. S. McMullin.

Among the congressional arrivals at the Metropolitan Hotel Sunday, were Hon. Patrick Henry, of Mississippi, accompanied by R. V. Harvey, and representative Maddox, of Ga.

Representative Latimer, of South Carolina, arrived late Saturday night and went to the St. James Hotel.

A NEW PAPER

To Be Established By the North Carolina Conference.

Special to the Telegram.

Elizabeth City, Dec. 5—The report of the committee on books and periodicals, which provides for the establishment of a paper for the North Carolina conference, passed the conference unanimously. The report also provides for a meeting of the joint commission not later than Dec. 17.

The balloting for editor of the new paper resulted in the election of Rev. Dr. T. N. Ivey, who received 126 votes, R. B. John 3, and N. M. Watson 3.

MANY NEW NOVELTIES.

For The Holiday Season at W. B. Farrar's Son, Jeweler.

A Telegram reporter called at the pretty jewelry store of W. B. Farrar's Son this morning and was shown many of the beautiful lines of new and attractive novelties just being opened up and added to the stock. The prices quoted simply paralyze anything we have heretofore seen.

There is a fine display of jewelry suitable for presents, everything conceivable in watches, clocks, cut glass and solid siverware, cuff buttons, scarf pins, pungents—but it is impossible to enumerate. It is necessary for you to visit the establishment to get even an idea of the completeness and beauty of the stock.

Another thing we were impressed with and that is the grade of goods carried. It is no longer necessary to send to New York for fine jewelry or ware. Mr. Farrar has all grades from solid gold and silver down to first-class plate, and as we remarked before the prices will astonish you.

COUNTY OFFICERS QUALIFIED

And Took Charge Today—Everything Now Democratic.

The newly elected county officers were formally qualified this morning. Clerk of the Court Ragan administered the oath of office to his successor, J. J. Nelson, and also to the county commissioners. Clerk Nelson took charge immediately and administered the oath to Sheriff Gilmer, Register of Deeds Kirkman and County Treasurer McKinney. The oaths of the last three were administered in the register of deeds' office, which was filled with friends of the new officers, who had come in to congratulate them.

The bonds of the county officers are as follows:

Clerk Nelson, $10,000.

Register of Deeds Kirkman $10,000.

Treasurer McKinney, two bonds of $20,000 each.

Sheriff Gilmer, three bonds of $5,000, $20,000, and $40,000 respectively.

All the bonds were given in full and were accepted by the county commissioners.

Schiffman, The Jeweler.

In this issue of the Telegram you will find a new advertisement of Schiffman, the jeweler. His store is specially attractive now with a rich display of all kinds of jewelry, cut glass and solid silverware. A visit will be of service to you in making selections in the way of holiday presents.

THE COLORED REGIMENT.

We have received a letter from an officer of Company E, Third N. C. regiment (colored) now at Macon, Ga., protesting against the growing idea that the Third regiment is without discipline. The idea has gained currency through newspaper reports of bad behavior. The officer admits that among a thousand men there are some hoodlums who break away from the restraint and discipline of the regiment occasionally, and indulge in bad conduct; but he denies that such should be attributed to the whole regiment and begs the public to withhold judgment until official publication of their deeds is made.

He goes on to say further that "our regiment has never cost the government a cent for damage done citizens and neither have our men kicked out window lights or robbed citizens while passing through their towns." A sense of fairness compels us to here compare the conduct of a New York regiment with that of the Third N. C.

The Third N. C. passed Greensboro going to Knoxville on the Sabbath. Their behavior while here was quiet, orderly and genteel compared to the New York regiment, which also passed here on Sunday a few weeks later. The New York soldiers, some of them, at least, were totally without restraint and acted in a manner that would disgrace Aguinaldo's gang of Filippinos. While the train stopped across South Elm street they used the vilest and most profane language, fired their guns, and actually kicked open a window in a hardware store and stole a number of boxes of cartridges. We are frank to say we do not believe the Third N. C. has ever been guilty of such conduct as that.

A sense of fairness and justice leads us to say further that rowdyism, thieving and rascality on the part of white soldiers should receive greater condemnation than the same conduct on the part of negroes, because better conduct is expected, and reasonably so, from white men than from negroes, the rank and file of whom, in spite of all these years of religious light and educational training, are yet in a semi-barbarious state.

Prayed in a Police Court.

A touching scene was enacted yesterday morning before Magistrate Wilhere at the Manayunk police station. Three girls had been arrested on a charge of stealing $6.65 from Miss Kate Fisher's millinery store. Thirteen-year-old Nellie Boyne was, at the request of her parents, committed to the House of the Good Shepherd, but when Julia and Lizze Wright aged respectively 13 and 11 years, were called up, their mother clasped them convulsively to her breast and prayed that the Judge be made merciful and save her children. The magistrate was moved with compassion, and held the children in $200 bail each for their future good behavior.—Philadelphia Record.

SATURDAY IN CONFERENCE.

The Charges Against Rev. Mr. Moorman Were Unsupported.

Elizabeth City, N. C., Dec. 3—The opening religious services were conducted this morning by Rev. J. Sanford. Bishop Fitzgerald presided, and the journal of yesterday's session was read and found correct. A letter from Dr. Tillett, of Vanderbilt University, was read and referred to the Educational Committee. A communication from the Board of Church Extension was referred to the appropriation committee. On motion of Dr. Gibbs the conference passed a resolution requesting Bishop Fitzgerald to sign a draft on Dr. W. H. Moore, treasurer of the conference trust fund, for the amount held for conference claimants.

Rev. W. L. Cunninggim was elected conference trustee in place of Dr. Jesse Cunninggim, resigned.

Bishop Fitzgerald made a ruling on the question as to the time when a superannuate may become a conference claimant, deciding that when a preacher has received his salary for the year he goes on the retired list he is not entitled to aid.

Revs. M. J. Hunt and T. J. Browning were placed on the superannuated list by a vote of the conference.

Rev. A. R. Goodchild read the report of the committee on Bible Cause, which recommended increased collections so the destitute may be supplied with God's word.

Question 20 was resumed and the following preachers passed examination of character and made reports: W. H. Townsend, W. A. Forbes, J. W. Martin, D. C. Geddie, J. A. Rouse, L. S. Etheridge, D. A. Futrell, W. A. Jenkins, A. R. Raven, C. W. Smith, J. J. Porter, and H. B. Anderson. C. P. Show was located at his own request.

W. L. Cunninggim, conference secretary, reported a deficit of over twenty dollars in publishing minutes. The conference by vote authorized the payment by the joint board of finance and instructed the secretary to purchase a box for conference records and to keep the same in place safe from fire.

The conference, on motion of Dr. Yates, decided to meet at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon for the memorial service.

Rev. W. E. Hocutt, having lost his credentials, the conference authorized the signing of a duplicate copy.

The special order for 11 o'clock being the charge to the class of deacons, the Bishop conducted that solemn and impressive service asking questions and commenting on the answews. The following composed the class who were admitted into full connection: B. C. Thompson, R. H. Willis, A. J. Graves and Albert Barnes.

The committee appointed to investigate the charges against Rev. R. J. Moorman reported that the charges were unsupported by proof, therefore no trial was necessary, and Mr. Moorman was exonerated; and his character was passed.

Dr. Yates offered a resolution expressing the pleasure of the conference in the appointment of Bishop Fitzgerald by the general conference to write a history of Methodism, and requested the bishop to write his auto-giography as well as sketches of prominent Methodists of the state of the last generation. It was adopted.

Call of question 20 was again taken up, and the following members of the conference had characters passed and submitted reports: J. E. Underwood, J. T. Bagwell, A. D. Betts, B. B. Culbreth, C. H. Jerome, R. F. Bumpass, J. B. Hurley, N. M. Watson, W. T. Moyle and L. O. Wyche.

After announcements the conference adjourned with benediction by Dr. T. N. Ivey.

Remarkable Rescue

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine would cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well: now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at C. E. Carved His Epitaph and Died.

"John Harmon died here from the bite of a rattlesnake."

This is an inscription on a beech tree standing on the knobs, in Monroe township, back of Jeffersonville. A date once followed the words, but it is now indistinct. There is a strange story connected with the inscription. An old resident relates it.

"Years ago, when that section of Indiana was little explored and when the heavy bush was the dwelling place of the wild turkey, deer and rattlesnake, John Harmon started to Charlestown to attend court. He was armed with an old fashioned rifle. A rattler bit Harmon's leg. Harmon killed the reptile. Then he began to prepare for death. It was he who carved the words in lighter lines on the tree, with the request beneath, long since obliterated by the tree's growth, to bury him on the spot. A few days later Harmon's body was found. A grave was dug by the tree and there it can be seen today." —Louisville Courier-Journal

Excessive Precaution.

A southwest Georgia couple going to be married, the prospective husband said:

"Molly, the last time I was married I lost the ring 'fore I got to the parson's. But I'm shore of it this time."

"Whar is it, John?" she asked.

"I've got it in my mouth," he said. "'Im shore of it now."

But when they stood before the preacher the latter asked:

"Where is the ring?"

The groom gulped—choked—stuttered, and finally exclaimed in despair:

"'Fore de Lord, I done swallered it!" —Atlanta Constitution.

Two Pointed Questions Answered.

What is the use of making a better article than your competitor if you can not get a better price for it?

Ans.—As there is no difference in the price the public will buy only the better, so that while our profits may be smaller on a single sale they will be much greater in the aggregate.

How can you get the public to know your make is the best?

If both articles are brought prominently before the public both are certain to be tried and the public will very quickly pass judgment on them and use only the better one.

This explains the large sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The people have been using it for years and have found that it can always be depended upon. They may occasionally take up with some fashionable novelty put forth with exaggerated claims, but are certain to return to the one remedy that they know to be reliable, and for coughs, colds and croup there is nothing equal to Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. For sale by C. E. Holton.

MISS GOULD SHY AT A MAN.

Feared that He Was Going to Propose.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 3—As Miss Helen Gould was leaving the county court house yesterday, a tall, slim young man, with a small brown mustache, approached her with uplifted hat Miss Gould looked frightened, and her aunt, her cousin and her maid fluttered about her.

"Excuse me," said the young man, "but I am very anxious to meet you; your father and my father were great friends."

"Yes?" queried Miss Gould.

"Yes," ran on the young man, "my name is Cuyler Reynolds. My father was married in 1865, and while on his wedding trip he was at the Fifth Avenue Hotel in New York. Your father was there, too."

"Indeed?" said Miss Gold.

"During a talk between your father and my father," the young man continued, "it was agreed between them that if your father had a daughter and my father had a son, they should marry."

Miss Gould glanced up at the man, startled, and began edging away.

"Don't be alarmed," said Mr. Reynolds soothingly. "I havent one of my cards with me, but here is one of my wife's. Will you take it?"

"Oh, gladly," cried Miss Gould. "I am so pleased to have met you."

Then she glided by him and with her female guard went on to the hotel. Mr. Reynolds is a society young man.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows; "I was in a most dreadful condition tion. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides; no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters: and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.
